Project Title: Groundwork for QIBA Image Reference Database

The RSNA OIA requirements gathering project has assembled an overall outline and detailed set of requirements categories that will form the basis of the final image archive requirements specification. In addition, the project prepared for and conducted meetings with each of the QIBA technical committees to obtain feedback on specific needs and requirements. These discussions were held during the regular teleconference calls for each of the committees between October 21, 2011 and November 2, 2011. The captured requirements feedback was summarized in a series of five PowerPoint documents, which were subsequently distributed to appropriate RSNA leadership and RSNA committee members such as the QIBA RIC.
