QIBA Wiki

- Mr. O'Donnell to add additional guidance to section 3.10.1 in Profile Template regarding how to test for Claim Conformance
- Conformance procedures must be more obvious to QIBA Biomarker Cmtes
- The Profile template can be found on the QIBA wiki, located at:
http://qibawiki.rsna.org/index.php/Main_Page

Claim Guidance Document

- Review of the flow chart continues
- Discussion on alternate forms of Claims and their issues
 - Each Profile should have either a longitudinal or cross-sectional claim, but it was decided that discriminatory claims are outside scope of QIBA and should not be included in Profiles; CC leaders will be informed and may discuss on Q3 CC calls in August
 - Unknown bias needs to be better defined
- To form a bridge from QIBA to clinical use, guidance to be provided to clinical users regarding the use of metrics in a clinical context

Next Steps

- Mr. O'Donnell to make updates to the flow chart in the Claim Guidance document on the QIBA wiki at: http://qibawiki.rsna.org/index.php/Process_Coordinating_Committee
