1. Update on the QIBA Group 3A Challenge

- There are two applicants to date – no data has been submitted yet.
- Other potential participants have downloaded data but have not sent applications to RSNA.
- A reminder will be sent immediately after the call and once more on Tuesday of the following week.
- Dr. Athelougou plans to follow up with colleagues she had previously invited from Moffitt, users of Definiens software.
- Group to consider next steps concerning data analysis and begin curation of the pivotal data

2. MICCAI conference, October 2012

- Dr. Beaumont would like to present results at the MICCAI conference in Nice, France,) if the group agrees

3. QI-Bench Data Site: www.QI-Bench.org

- Mr. Buckler walked the group through the registration/download steps on QI-Bench public data access site

4. Suggested incentive to participate

- Dr. Carson suggested that participants be made “co-authors” on the published study results
 - This would be limited initially to participating committee members– others could be added if the numbers were not prohibitive

Next steps:

- RSNA staff to send a reminder regarding the “Challenge” invitation after the call and next Tuesday, (12/13)
 - Post call – it was determined that deadlines will be extended as follows:
 - Application for participation and anonymous ID – Wednesday, December 21, 2011
 - Data submission - Friday, January 6, 2012
 - Analysis extended to – Tuesday, January 24, 2012
- For discussion on next call – next steps if there are not enough pilot participants
- Begin work on curation of pivotal data

Next call: Thursday, December 22, 2011 at 11 am CST – (update on the Challenge)
